Ratepayers of Collholme M. D. Held Meeting

The Ratepayers of the Collholme Municipal District 243 wish to change Date of annual meeting.

The ratepayers of Collholme M. D. who attended the Annual Meeting on Saturday the 15th, apparently did not appreciate the Sub Zero weather and voted on a motion to request the Provincial Government to set the date for the third week in June, without a dissenting voice.

Mr. Ellis was appointed chairman of the meeting which was the poorest attended in the history of the District.

The Financial Statement was adopted with very little discussion. No doubt, the majority present were in accord with the ratepayer who stated, that in view of crop conditions etc. it was a very creditable one.

The retiring Councillors for Div. 3 & 5 Messrs Stewart and Young were re-elected.

In Div. 1 no nominations were received, the retiring Councillor S. W. Warren not seeking re-election, after 14 years of continuous service.

The question of road work being undertaken early in the spring, met with opposition from some ratepayers who contended individuals who were in the fortunate position of owning tractors and had sons or hired men would have a monopoly of the work.

The proposed subsidy to a Doctor in Youngstown met with considerable opposition from a ratepayer, resident in the east portion of the district, who stated if this was done, the Doctor in Cereal should also receive the same consideration.

Due to the small number present the question of disorganization of the district, received very little support and from the discussion it appeared that the majority were satisfied with the present system.

The regular meeting of the Chinook Womens Institute will be held at Mrs Otto's home on Wednesday, March 4. Mrs Allen will have charge of the program, which is on Agri culture.

Wants Guaranteed

Price for Wheat,

Oats and Barley

OTTAWA, Feb 26 (C. P.)—Proposal for a guaranteed minimum price on wheat, oats and barley, as a permanent measure is contained in a resolution placed on the order paper of the House of Commons today by Victor Quelch, Social Credit member for Acadia, Alberta. The resolution reads:

"In the opinion of this House the government should submit for consideration of this house such legislation as may be necessary in order to guarantee a minimum price, based upon cost of production plus a fair remuneration to the producer, on wheat, oats and barley, as a permanent measure."

Speculative Boom Is In Offing

Signs and portents point to a widespread boom in North America's stock markets. Within the last year and a half certain stocks have multiplied in price. In certain instances prices have mounted to 25 times the annual earnings of the corporations. The worries and anguish of 1929 and subsequent years have been lightly forgotten. Human nature is reasserting itself, little chastened by the punishment of the depression. The probable course of events will likely bring about a roaring stock market boom.

Prices will be forced to unbelievable heights. Spending, based on fictitious profits and prices, will be on a generous scale. Then will come a year when some of the wary ones will start unloading. The smaller fry will later follow suit, and the stock market price will collapse. Then all prices will fall, people will find out they are not as rich as they thought, and a depression will be experienced.

It is doubtful if any laws could be passed to prevent human beings following such a line of action. Common sense is the only attribute that can act as a deterrent. People should know that wealth is not produced by speculations in stocks, but by the application of brain and muscle to the development of natural resources and producing things the people require for their livelihood, protection and comfort.

Of course there is a place in commercial life for investment and speculation. Those who put their money in a prospective mine or in drilling for a hoped for oil well, or in starting a factory or buying commodities, assume risks. As a rule they understand the danger of loss and are prepared to take it. But when a larger percentage of the people indiscriminately undertake speculation in stocks, with out accurate knowledge for the most part and certainly without good judgment, a real menace presents itself.

Farmer Dies Trying To Save Team Stuck In Deep Snowdrifts

GRANDVIEW, Man., Feb. 21 (C. P.)—Rather than desert his horses imprisoned in a snowdrift a mile from his home, Frank Hebner died beside his team, victim of cold and exhaustion, in attempting to extricate them.

Hebner and his team were marooned in a deep drift 18 miles south of here. The closed cab in which he was driving overturned, and he was forced to punch his way out through the top.

Searchers today found the partly frozen body of the 57-year old farmer. His coat covered one of the animals, and tracks in the snow bore mute testimony to the battle he waged to free them before he fell exhausted.

Safeguarding Democracy

"If our democracy is to survive, the whole voting public must be educated, so as to use the rational, scientific mode of approach to all our problems, instead of the emotional, superstitious and 'hunch' mode of approach." When Dr. Robert Millikin, eminent American physicist and scientist, made this statement recently in a letter read at a congress of the American Institute in New York, he said a great deal in a few words, and while, no doubt, he had social and economic problems as they exist in the United States in mind nevertheless the philosophy contained in his words is equally sound and applicable when considered in the light of the problems and conditions which confront the people of this country.

For no matter what problems exist, and without any limitation of their geographic or ethnologic application, it is axiomatic that they cannot be solved satisfactorily unless the ray of clear reason and logic is focussed upon them rather than a diffused floodlight of passion and emotion. In other words, it is only after the problems which cry aloud for solution have been placed under the microscope and subjected to scientific analysis to determine what they are made of, that it is possible to prescribe an effective cure.

If, on the other hand, people allow their emotions to run away with sober reflection and sound judgment, no matter how laudable those emotions may be, no matter how fine even the impelling motives, it is a sine qua non, that the conclusion reached will nine times out of ten be wrong and the goal to be achieved further removed and subsequently more difficult to attain. For misdirected effort surely leads to more complicated and most undesirable consequences.

In their turn undesirable consequences can do nothing but promote unrest, dissatisfaction and despair, and when these moods have been induced people are apt to turn to anything that offers in the hope of finding relief, even to the extent of surrendering liberties which have been bought at great cost.

All this, no doubt, Dr. Millikin had back of his mind when he wrote his dictum that the existence of democracy is threatened for the people who fail to apply science and reason to the solution of their problems.

This does not by any means contradict the assertion that sentiment and emotion have their part in determining the destinies of individuals and nations. Indeed, not only have they a part to play, but without these forces the world would be a sorry sphere, but they require as a governor, rational thinking and logical decisions, so that they may be directed along right and useful channels.

Once rationalism has pointed the way to the solution of the problems which vex the soul, then is the time to call into play the finer emotions of burning zeal and enthusiasm to enkindle others, and it is a safe assumption that causes lighted from the beacon of incontrovertible fact and entrenched wisdom are those which will ultimately prevail in the minds and hearts of the multitude.

The people of Western Canada have at times been accused of being too easily swayed by popular and ephemeral concepts and of swinging to extremes. If there is any truth to the accusation, it is equally true that they are not more prone to do so than the peoples of other lands. For proof, it is only necessary to take note of what is happening in other countries.

Moreover, if at times, the citizens of this country, display an occasional tendency to soar to impractical heights, as they do in other countries it is noticeable that free ventilation and discussion eventually slows down the pendulum to a point where questions can be considered rationally, a tribute to the value of free thought and free speech, rightly regarded as the bulwarks of democracy.

And in this connection it is interesting to note that Dr. Millikin also stated that he regarded the newspapers as "on the whole the most effective adult educational influence in this country," coupling this with his comment on the necessity of resorting to reason if democracy is to survive.

This statement needs very little amplification, for it is universally recognized that the newspapers of this country devote a great deal of space to the publication of discussions by authorities and others on important social and economic problems and also to announcements of discoveries of value to mankind generally.

Tourists Are Collectors

Hotels Lose Many Different Articles To Souvenir Hunters
Souvenir-hunting, and not a desire to steal, is accountable for most of the odd thefts by hotel guests. Victoria, B.C., hotelmen claim.

Many and varied are the things which disappear. Towels head the list. One hotel estimates out of 15 dozen towels purchased last summer, five dozen already have been carried off. Thirty dozen towels is the average annual loss for a hotel.

Silverware and teaspoons come a close second. Salt shakers and sugar bowls are also popular collectors' pieces. Rarer souvenirs are light bulbs, telephone books, tumblers and Gideon Bibles.

Some hotels reported losses of sheets and blankets. One enterprising guest carried away the glass-headed screws which held the mirror in his bathroom.

Finding soap in the bathroom after a guest has left is a pleasant surprise to most hotelmen. Collectors with a penchant for room keys are the biggest trouble. Some men have been known proudly to display collections of several dozen keys picked up in hotels.

Women guests, state hotel operators, are more voracious than men. Their make-up causes losses which run into high figures. Owners say some brands of lipstick cannot be removed from towels without ruining the material.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Refreshed to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Internal poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, weak and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel like a new man. They make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a liver. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Motor Road Under Alps

Plans For Tunnel Have Been Submitted To Swiss Railway

It will be possible to motor under the Alps between Switzerland and Italy through the famous Simplon tunnel if plans submitted to the Swiss railway authorities are carried out.

They provide for the establishment of a motor road through one of the two railway tunnels.

The work of conversion is expected to cost $1,000,000.

It will be necessary to install a complicated ventilating system to dispel gasoline fumes. Sidings will also have to be cut into the sides of the tunnel. The purpose of these is to enable cars which break down to be towed out of the way of the main traffic stream.

The Simplon tunnel, which was built in 1906, links Switzerland and Italy. It is the longest of the tunnels under the Alps, measuring 12½ miles.

Relic Found In 4,000-Year-Old Tomb

In Asia Minor
What is believed to be the first step toward the discovery of the lost Hittites, who appear in the Bible as a great imperial power, has just been found in Asia Minor. In a 4,000-year-old tomb was discovered a Hittite statue of a bull, seven inches high and inlaid with gold. The silver smith's art is astonishingly modern, and indicates that the race was cultured rather than primitive as previously believed. The discovery has aroused great interest among European archaeologists because previously nothing had been known of the Hittites' work except rock carving and a few potsherds. The relic was exhibited recently in London.

Of George V. It can be said that he died in peace, loved by his people. A king, says the New York Post, could ask no higher praise in an age that has seen three emperors de-throned, several kings assassinated or exiled and dictators ruling by terror—the dictators themselves terrorized by fear of what their subjects would do to them if they ever got the chance.

Puzzle For Scientists

Vegetation Again Seen On Volcanic Island In Indian Ocean

Scientists are puzzled over the return of vegetable, animal, and insect life to Krakatau Island, a barren lava stretch for many years following a volcanic eruption. Dr. Diamond Jenness, anthropologist of the Dominion museum, Ottawa, said at Victoria, B.C., on his return from a far eastern voyage.

Krakatau's eruption occurred near the end of the last century and the island left above the Indian ocean was a smoking waste. The top was blown off the mountain, and the ensuing tidal wave which swept the Malay coast and East Indies caused more than 30,000 deaths.

"Trees and other vegetation now grow in profusion," said Dr. Jenness, "and insects and animals have returned to the islands."

He said he was impressed by the progress in Java, which he also visited. It had become modernized under Dutch rule, with excellent railroads, air service, and roads.

Java produces 85 per cent. of the world's quinine supply, he said, and agriculture is its sole industry. More than 500,000 Chinese are included in the 40,000 population.

One of the most impressive sights gallery more than a mile long, con for the visitor is a temple with a taining a frieze decoration depicting the life of Buddha.

Highway Crossing Accidents

Collisions Between Automobiles And Trains Show Increase

Accidents at highway crossings in 1935 involving collisions between motor vehicles and trains totaled 213 compared with 182 for 1934, a report of the board of railway commissioners announced.

Of the 1935 figures, 61 accidents were instances in which motor vehicles ran into sides of trains, involving 13 persons killed and 90 injured, compared with 55 accidents of a like nature in 1934 in which seven were killed and 76 injured.

Took Secrets With Him

Man Who Trapped Spies During War Is Dead

A man who was one of the masterminds behind Britain's anti-spy system during the War has died, carrying with him many of his secrets. He was Hugh Cleland Hoy, private secretary to Sir Reginald Hall, director of Naval Intelligence in the most fateful days of 1914-1918. He died in Charing Cross Hospital, London, from gangrene induced by a form of hardening of the arteries from which he had suffered for about two years. He was 59.

Working in 40 O.B., a room in the old Admiralty building whose existence was unknown to the outside world, Mr. Hoy and his colleagues gathered into their fingers all the webs of intrigue and espionage which Germany had spun across Britain—gathered them and snapped them, one by one. Not until years after the War was the veil partly lifted from that secret room. In the book "40 O.B.," published in 1932, Mr. Hoy told for the first time some of the story of those days and nights of intrigue and counter-intrigue. But in this work he wrote: "I have been obliged to omit many startling and exciting matters. . . I have had to remember—and also to forget."—Overseas Daily Mail.

A Rare Operation

Blood Sucked From Patient's Lung Used For Transfusion

A rare operation in which the victim of a stab wound in the heart was saved by his own blood was reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The blood was sponged from the victim's lung cavity, and was then injected into his veins in a manner similar to the usual transfusion. Two Pittsburgh physicians, who described the case for the Journal—Dr. Charles M. Watson and Dr. James R. Watson—said it was the first of its kind in medical annals.

In recognition of the "heroic work" done by Calgary School Janitors in keeping schools warm during the recent cold spell, the Calgary school board has decided to write a letter of commendation to each man on the city school's janitor staff.

Members were unanimous in declaring that janitors deserve praise for the manner in which they carried on their work during the past few weeks. Although the men had faced many difficulties due to the cold weather it was stated that only two school rooms had been closed for a half day owing to lack of heat in the building.

"MISSISSIPPI HEART" HAND

The infamous "Mississippi heart" hand is herewith reprinted for the edification of all contract bridge players.

Mr. North has bid a grand slam in hearts, doubled and re-doubled. The hands:

Mr. North—Clubs, none; Diamonds, none; Hearts, A, Q, 10, 6, 4; Spades, J, 10, 8, 7, 5, 4, 3, 2.

Mr. West—Clubs, A, K, Q; Diamonds, A, K, Q, J; Hearts, K, J, 9; Spades, A, K, Q.

Mr. South—Clubs, none; Diamonds, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 4, 3, 2; Hearts, 8, 7, 5, 3, 2; Spades, none.

Mr. East—Clubs, J, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2; Diamonds, 5; Hearts, none; Spades, 9, 6.

The play: East opens with Jack of clubs, dummy discards a diamond. West claps on his ace and North trumps with four of hearts. The North led a low spade and trumped it in dummy. He led trumps from there and took West's 9 with a 10. He got back into dummy by trumping another spade lead and led hearts back capturing West's Jack. He got back into dummy with another spade lead, led a diamond, trumped it, and his ace of trumps hooked West's king. Then he led down the rest of his spades, all of them being good.

Anyone who essays the role of Mr. North had better have his life insured and all the accessories of accident and hurricane insurance added.

STOCK LOSS REPORTED IN SOUTH AT EAST

Prolonged Cold and Feed Shortage Taking Toll of Cattle, Sheep

Livestock losses in Southern Alberta are admittedly going to be heavy this winter, according to Dominion and provincial officials, livestock houses, and ranchers themselves.

Thursday, the Herald interviewed several sources prominent in connection with the industry. The information was:

The prospect, unless a long mild spell arrives can well be compared with 1919-20.

Sheep losses have already been considerable in southern Alberta. South of Taber is particularly mentioned.

Horses are wintering very well with many being sold and marketed active.

In various localities many of the older cattle, cows particularly have died through lack of feed.

Irrigation areas are rapidly reaching capacity as far as feeding accommodation is concerned. Fat cattle and sheep are moving from these districts. So is such surplus feed as is available.

Indian reservations in the south running approximately 13,000 head of cattle, will have to buy feed if the cold snap continues.
